The colour shades of grey used in the many elegant decorative design projects by Noomi Sandstrom.

In 2020, Mariposa's Premier Designer Sarah Muschump had decided to use a variety of grey colours by Benjamin Moore throughout her gallery, which gave depth and decorative distinction of sheer elegance throughout the showrooms.

Through Mariposa's Colour Selection and Decorative Design Consultation services, our clients can discover the most popular grey hues by Benjamin Moore that are so versatile, and that they can harmonize effortlessly with a breadth of design styles and colour accents, making them the perfect choice of neutral style from which to build any decorating scheme.

Reflecting on the popularity of grey colours by Benjamin Moore, 6 times out of 10, my clients will have selected a grey colour scheme through much of their residential property when pursuing a home staging project. – Kasha Mosley, Premier Designer, Mariposa Decorative Design Canada.

The beauty of grey throughout a staged home, revitalizing an environment and providing a sense of decorative stimulation to the mind (a combined subtle minimalism and yet sophisticated elegance).

The trick of the eye that enables the appearance of depth in a hallway.

Grey within the office space and overall commercial property environment can enable a sense of class distinction for the business brand.

A darker shade of grey can display boldness and sophistication with also a distinct sense of style and class.

Unlike what many think, grey is not a gloomy colour, the many wonderful colour hues by Benjamin Moore can provide a sense of panache and stimulate the senses, causing the mental perception of depth and spaciousness.

The distinguished shades of grey.

After a decade with grey being at the forefront of Mariposa's interior designs, these versatile colours have given way to an altogether warmer and more comforting hues that enable a sense of sophisticated elegance. If you love distinguished colours of grey, Benjamin Moore offers the best colour selection.

The colour of grey is enough to feel contemporary and harmonious, as well as enough to feel warm and comforting. As with every part of the colour spectrum, gray colours are influenced by light, and its always important to try a colour in your space before taking the plunge. For example, Titanium OC-49 is on the green-grey end of this scale and may read cool in a north facing room yet perfectly balanced in a south or east facing room.

Conversely, Edgecomb Gray HC-173 is on the warmer end of the scale and will read more neutral in a north facing space. Through colour consultation sessions, our clients can discover the most popular gray hues that are so versatile, they can harmonize effortlessly with a breadth of design styles and colour accents, making them the perfect choice of elegant style from which to build any painting and decorating project.

Benjamin Moore

The appropriate soft tone colours are versatile, timeless, and have the power to make an interior space feel more spacious and fresh.

Although the wrong brighter colour can look stark, drab or can have undertones that simply don't work with your chosen surface scheme of colours.

Whether you are looking for a white for ceilings and woodwork to harmonize with your chosen wall colour, or you're looking to create a bright and fresh all-soft tone space. Moreover, Mariposa's consultants will assist you with choosing the most appropriate soft colours for your home improvement project.

The Magnificent Whites

Benjamin Moore

Enrich your life with colour

The brightest colours in the Benjamin Moore palettes is for example Chantilly Lace OC-65. This is a simple, clean white with none of the pastel undertones that are so common in other "brilliant whites" which make them feel stark and clinical.

This pure whiteness means Chantilly Lace is great for all-white interior and exterior property spaces; although such white also sits comfortably with pretty much every other hue, therefore, such white colours are a safe choice for woodwork and ceilings, if you are uncertain what to choose.

Chantilly Lace is the colour that makes America's principle house so elegant and distinguished.

Next up is Super White PM-1 or OC-152. This is the Benjamin Moore colour that is most like a standard "Brilliant White" and for that reason is the "go-to" white for most professional painters.

Canadians tend to like more muted and softer whites, so the Benjamin Moore colour called White PM-2 or OC-151, is noticeably grey. Such colours appear fabulously with other muted hues and reflect a much softer image.

Warm and soft hues.

Many soft tones have a subtle yellow, blue, red, green or grey undertone that make interior property spaces feel warm and sunny without looking too creamy. The lack of any darker colour pigments keep the colours feeling clean and fresh. These soft tone colours are ideal for north facing spaces or other interior spaces without too much light, because they are bright and uplifting. Warm soft tones such as Simply White OC-117, Mountain Peak White OC-121 and Cotton Balls OC-112 have undertones of red and yellow, resulting in a soft glow and welcoming mood.

Warm muted whites such as White Dove OC-17, Cloud Cover OC-25 or Dune White 968 are stunning in all-white interior property spaces, especially when layered with natural colours and textures in throws, pillows and fabrics. They are especially suited to interior property spaces with a lot of natural light to create a soft, calming feel.

Love the colours that surround you.

Colour really does make the interior property space elegant. The perfect shade and finish can enlarge a small space, bring in more light, or deliver that pinch of bedazzled colour effect that you need with your morning wakeup. Although finding the appropriate and most elegant colour is not always an easy task.

Mariposa's colour and decorative design consultants possess the decorative abilities to assist you with feeling confidence with what colours that you will most desire to have within the environments where you live or work.

The psychology of colour.

You want to love the colours that surround you. Therefore, when imagining (or reimagining) an interior property space, remember to think about the influential colour that will have the sensation on the mood of such space. The effect can be subtle or dramatic. Colours can encourage tranquility or boost the spirit, even make you feel optimistic or more introspective.

The spruce colours

The following four basic colour groups help us to understand how colours can influence mood.

Purple: The bright and airy qualities that make purple hues feel uplifting. Purple colours like dusty lavender, ballet pink and sky blue are comfortable and easy to live with. They feel positive and encourage expression, while enhancing other colours.

The elegance in natural colours.

It's no surprise that earthy and nuanced colours keep you grounded. Natural colours go beyond green and brown into earthy hues like slate, clay, sand and ochre. Colours in this family can be warm or cool, although they are always reliable and level-headed. Moreover, green tone colours can transition beautifully with shifting light, they are an excellent choice for interior property spaces that are frequently used throughout the day.

The Impact of light on natural colours: Light in a room changes many times throughout the day. From the natural light of early dawn to the artificial light of nightfall, the interplay of light and colour is a crucial component when it comes to choosing your perfect paint colours. Experimenting and observation is key.

Colours in the deep.

Bring drama to a room with colours that are rich and mysterious. Violet, onyx, sapphire and ruby, even the names evoke something dramatic. Deep colours dissolve boundaries and create depth. They are the opposite of understatement and can fill a room with energy, creativity and confidence.

The Illusion of space: The clever use of colour and sheen can influence the sense of space and dimension you feel in a room. Small rooms can appear larger, high ceilings can feel lower, architectural features can be emphasized, and open plan spaces can be defined.

Demystify the colour fan decks.

When you begin the process with a Mariposa colour or decorative design consultant, you will take a look at a colour wheel: Warm reds, yellows, and oranges congregate on one side, while cool lavenders, blues and greens are on the other. Pale tones and "hints" are at the center of the wheel while saturated shades are found around the edge. Creating a palette within one half of the wheel tends to be more harmonious. Although pairing two colours that stand opposite one another adds a dash of invigorating tension.

Mariposa Painting & Decorating

The Pastels

Benjamin Moore

Enrich your life with colour

While its very common to use white on the woodwork alongside a pastel colour on the interior walls, you can brighten the look by selecting a pastel colour which shares the same undertones as your wall colour. This technique is great when you want to make the room feel larger because the skirting and coving will appear more recessive than if a bright white is used, and won't draw the eye to the corners of the room.

Soft colours can be hard to spot the undertones in a white when such colour is surrounded by stronger pastel shades. Moreover, a consultant can isolate swatches or samples from other brighter pastel colours and compare a few pastel hues together to make the different contrast soft colours more obvious.

At Mariposa, we believe that Benjamin Moore hit a home run with Regal when it was first introduced. The advertising strategies were mostly geared towards the fact of it being a zero VOC product. Regal Select also added improved adhesion properties to the formula.

FAQs

FAQs about Mariposa Painting & Decorating in regards to using Benjamin Moore products:

Reality is reality in the making of decisions and accountability for actions. Essentially, Mariposa Painting & Decorating Canada without question is an ecologically respectful and efficient company.

Question. What should I look for in a good painting and decorating contractor?

Answer. Ontario requires painters, decorators, and all contractors in general, to have a current business license in good standing. So should you! By choosing to hire Mariposa Painting & Decorating, you are choosing a well established, well experienced, and credible company with painters and decorators who are licensed and certified professionals.

Question. Why do I care if my painting and decorating contractor uses "high quality" paint? I thought all paints were the same?

Answer. As with any type of painting and decorating project, including repair materials, the better the quality, the better the results. Because Mariposa uses the most trusted suppliers, such as Benjamin Moore Canada, the company's completed work will not only look better, Mariposa will guarantee quality assurance. Mariposa offers a 5 Year Warranty based on confidence in Benjamin Moore paints and stains. Benjamin Moore paints and stains will be able to handle the tests of time; including just every day wear and tear. As a client of Mariposa, you will receive what you pay for, and cheap, inferior, or low quality paint isn't worth the investment.

Question. Why would I hire Mariposa as my painting and decorating service provider?

Answer. Begin by asking other people who have used our painting and decorating services. If you see a neighboring home or business that has been painted and decorated by Mariposa, inquire if such client is satisfied with the results. You'll still want to interview a few other painting and decorating companies as you receive other quotes. Keep in mind, the ultimate goal isn't the cheapest rate, it's the best value. That means high-quality products and services offered by Mariposa end with the result that you most desire for a reasonable rate of cost.

Question. Does Mariposa provide advice for paint colour selection?

Answer. At Mariposa, we offer a free consultation which can include discussing colour options. Ultimately, it's up to you or your designer's or architect's guidelines, although we are more than assertive to offer decorative advice and suggestions.

Question. What are different paint sheens?

Answer. There are several different types of paint sheens including high gloss, semi-gloss, satin, eggshell, and flat or matte. Each one has its benefits and the place in your home will require what is appropriate. At Mariposa, we'll help you understand each sheen, and to make the right choice for the spaces throughout your home.

There is a reason why most home owners and renters, and builders and property management clients trust in Mariposa Painting & Decorating, there are capabilities and a standard of service that set us a part from all others.

Question. What should I do to prepare for a painting project?

Answer. The Mariposa Project Coordinator will take care of most of the preparations for the home painting or decorating project, including the organizing of project spaces and working areas. Although, there are some preparations that will be required of you. Such as, remove wall hangings and anything decorative on, or nearby walls that could get in the way or damaged. At Mariposa, we appreciate that our clients can make it easier for our painters and decorators to move around by removing furnishings or obstructions. Make arrangements for children and pets, to not interfere with the project spaces and working areas if possible. Please don't hesitate to discuss with our consultants and project coordinator on any other issue that you would like Mariposa to address.
